Instruments quoted through Market Execution technology:

- To open a position by means of the client terminal the Client must click on the “Buy by Market” or “Sell by Market” button.  - If the liquidity provider has executed the transaction at this price.
- In any event, the Client’s instruction is executed at the best available price from the Company’s liquidity providers;
- Once the server has received the Client’s instruction to open a position, it will be automatically opened if the Free Margin is sufficient to open the position based on the margin requirements in effect at the time a position is opened for a specific financial instrument;
- A new position is imputed to the list of open positions;
- New “Margin” for the cumulative Client’s position, including imputed new position, is calculated at the current market prices at the moment of verification;
- All Floating Profits/Losses for all open positions, including the imputed new position, are calculated at the current market prices;
- New “Free Margin” is calculated as follows:
 - If “Free Margin” is more or equal to zero and the total Client position including imputed new position does not exceed present limits specified for this type of account. Then the position is opened. The process of opening the position is followed by the relevant record in the Server Log-File;
 - If “Free Margin” is less than zero, then the Company has the right to decline the instruction to open the position;
 - If opening a tentatively added position with the current spread value will result in a Margin Call or negative Equity value, the position will not be opened.
